

STORYTELLING (ANAN-SE-SEM) DRAMA

Kanko Arts Foundation offers exciting storytelling sessions to schools and communities for children of all ages, through the use of maps, pictures and flash cards etc. pupils / students are taken on an imaginary journey to Ghana, West Africa where they will hear Ghanaian stories interspersed with singing and drumming.

Wonderful stories from different cultures, presented by professional story tellers, illustrating cultural diversity and raising awareness of other cultures.

The workshops help develop young peoples reading, writing, oral speaking and also bring out hidden talents.

Ananse is a mischievous spider who gets into all sorts of trouble. He muddles his way through exciting adventures, where things finally turn out all right. At the end of the adventure, the story teller asks the children how Ananse brought these things on himself and how they would have done things differently, establishing valuable morals in life.

Sessions can be booked in 1 hour intervals in the morning or afternoon.

Spaces are filling up fast, so be sure to book them as soon as possible.
